House Investigation

RINGSTERS ON STAND

Columbus, O., April 3.—The investigation has only started," declared Chairman Howe of the senate inquiry committee Friday. "We have 10 days work ahead of us now."

It has developed that Hy D. Davis, Cleveland, predecessor of D. S. Creamer, is a candidate for re-appointment. It was during the administration of Davis that, Creamer testified, the books at the printing establishment of the Ruggles-Gale Co. show entries reading "commission to the fire marshal."

Orloff Brown, who was chief deputy under Davis, and who figured in the testimony of E. H. Sell, proprietor of one of the printing establishments where supplies were purchased, is employed as a deputy examiner in Auditor Gullbert's department.

Sell testified Brown had borrowed $30 while a deputy and that he had charged it up against the account of the state, "but only as a way of keeping track of it."

Davis reached Columbus Friday to demand that he be given an opportunity to appear before the committee.

"I was in Fort Wayne when I heard of the testimony," he said. "There was no one more surprised than I at the nature of it." He had a conference with Orloff Brown, who was his chief deputy.

"Brown is as anxious as I am to testify," he said. "It is true that when I went away on trips I left vouchers signed in blank, and it would have been possible for someone to have used those for a wrong purpose." The investigation will not be resumed until Monday, when Davis, Creamer, McKinnon, Green and Gullbert likely will be on the stand.

EVELYN THAW

Will Sue the Manager of Knickerbocker Hotel
for $50,000 for Libel

TO MAKE FOREIGN TOUR

New York, April 3.—Evelyn Thaw brought suit for $50,000 damages against James B. Rogan, proprietor of the Hotel Knickerbocker, this afternoon for having caused to be published in newspapers an alleged libel in connection with her visit to the grill room of that hostelry early last Tuesday morning in company with E. R. Thomas, the banker and horseman.

Manager Rogan said that he ordered Thomas and Mrs. Thaw to quit the hotel, and declared that he refused to serve them after he discovered the identity of Mrs. Thaw.

In her complaint which will be filed in the supreme court tomorrow morning Mrs. Thaw alleges that she and Mr. Thomas left the Knickerbocker on their own accord, and that Manager Rogan did not even suggest that they depart.

Daniel O'Reilly, personal counsel for Mrs. Thaw, said to your reporter that Mr. Thomas will appear at the trial and testify that he was not asked to leave the Knickerbocker grill room by Manager Rogan. Mrs. Thaw says she does not know Mr. Rogan, and is positive in her declaration that he did not speak to her in connection with the alleged order to quit the hotel.

"Mrs. Thaw left town today to spend a few days vacation with a relative," said Mr. O'Reilly. "She is within easy call of this city. Mrs. Thaw has been subjected to a great deal of annoyance through the endeavors of hotel managers to gain publicity at her expense. She was invited to take a suite of rooms in the Prince George hotel, and the action of Manager Dick in ordering her to leave last night may also be aired in the courts."

The suit of Evelyn Thaw against Harry K. Thaw for annulment of their marriage is now in the courts, and the case may be reached before May 1. The wife of Stanford White's

MUSICAL ART CLUB

Concert at First Reformed Church a Decided Success—Directed by Prof. Daniels.

For those who did not attend the musical given by the Musical Art club at the First Reformed church last night, under the directions of Prof. Daniels, it might be said that they missed one of the rarest musical treats ever offered to the patrons of the art in this city.

The Musical Art club is composed of some 40 or 50 Canton ladies, many of whom are singers of considerable note. The solos, of which there were many, were well received by those present, while the chorus work was exceptionally fine, the club being compelled to respond to several encores. The work of Prof. Daniels, instructor of music in the Canton public schools, is highly commendable, and the way in which the chorus worked under his leadership was nothing less than marvelous.

MINERS

Of Pittsburgh District Offer to Deal With the Operators.

Pittsburgh, April 3.—The miners of the Pittsburgh district through their own local union No. 5, today adopted a resolution to deal with the individual operators of the Pittsburgh district instead of following the ironclad instructions handed down at the Indianapolis convention of the United Mine workers in effect that districts must sign as a whole and that there should be no dealing with firms individually.

While this break in orders will likely precipitate serious internal trouble in the miners' union, it is also likely that it will have a welcome effect on the coal strike district, since it is known so many firms decide to continue work at this time.

That the Pittsburgh Coal company, which controls practically 40 per cent of the coal mined in the Pittsburgh district will sign with the miners if given the opportunity is hinted here tonight that it will have a startling effect on the strike.

THE HONEYMOONERS

Proved a Typical Cohan Play and Found Favor With Good House at the Grand.

George Cohan's song show, "The Honeymooners," was the attraction at the Grand last evening. A representative audience enjoyed the play. Like all of the Cohan productions there is just enough plot to the play to hold the interest of the audience. This show is teeming with action, and has a number of typical Cohan song hits, which are well received. Willie Dunlap as Augustus Wright the "Rah, Rah, Rah," boy, is certainly there with the goods and he delivers them in a manner that takes. His big song hits were "Nothing New Beneath the Sun," and "Going to Die, Going to Have Some Fun." In the first of these he was encored six times and in a pretty little speech finally said there would have been more verses to the song, but George Cohan broke his thumb while writing it and had to stop. The other leading parts were well taken and as a whole the play is a big hit and a jolly good entertainment.
